

An aerial photograph of a sports field (Blackmore Oval) and its surroundings. The field is green and occupies the lower-left and central parts of the image. To the right of the field is a road with a bridge structure. A railway line runs diagonally across the bottom right. Various buildings and trees are scattered throughout the scene. Two red arrows point to specific areas: one to a wooded area on the left side of the field, and another to a wooded area on the right side of the field. Two text boxes are overlaid on the image, one in green and one in red, providing information about pedestrian bridge access and closure.
