

Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

READ
GROW
Inspire

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

Al the elf

Al was not a normal elf working for Santa he did work for Santa but wasn't like other elves. For example: he's got big ears and feet, tiny hands and hates making presents. One day while making a cuckoo clock he thought to himself if he should run off to Australia and stay there. but then thought about how to get to Australia from the North Pole. So he thought about using Santa's sled and made a decision that he was going to use Santa's sled. So that night he gathered all his things and head off to Santa's sled and started riding. he was worried because he had never left the North Pole before but then rudders led got bent in the storm. So Al had to go back to the North Pole. So he did when got back he noticed everybody had been looking for him. except Santa he was looking for his sled. So when he got back everybody said "welcome back Al" so he saw that people cared for and he thought maybe the North Pole isn't all that bad.