Write a short story about your best idea ever.

I was walking in the deep dark woods and I slipped and fell. Very Very suddenly dogs came running out of the trees. It was also really very cloudy. When the dogs licked me the clouds ran away and I started flying and I even did a flip in the air. It was so Amazing so I decided to fly home. As I flew there on the ground through the trees were the dogs! Then I landed home. The door was locked! So I crept through the window and on to my bed. Very suddenly I fell asleep. In the morning I woke-up got up and ran outside the front. There on the doormat was a baby dog (puppy). I asked my family if I could keep it and they said yes! I got to keep the ~~pup~~ puppy! Best dream of my life! Then I decided to ~~write~~ write about my dreams because they inspire me!!!
