Best Mothers Day Gift

Have you ever made something special for your mum on Mothers Day? Well this story is all about that.

Zoe a young girl probably just like you was wondering what she could do today.

She was thinking so hard until something popped into her mind like it was Mother's Day tomorrow and she had not made anything. What could she do?

It was so hard to think. She looked at all the other inventions she had made for her mum over the years but still she could think of nothing. So she had no choice but to go to school. Once she got to school, she heard her name called out. It was her best friend Violet. Zoe was always pleased to see Violet she ran to Violet and gave her a big hug. When Zoe was about to tell Violet that she hadn't made anything

For her mum and Mothers Day was tomorrow but Violot said I have a new table! As soon as Violot said that Zoe had an idea. She knew exactly what she could make for her mum. Imagine this... a table with neatly laid plates but the plates are moving in a circular motion just like a sushi train. So, once school was finished Zoe rushed to Target she bought a table a few tools, plates and a button. Then she walked home quickly. Once she got home Zoe closed the door so her mum wouldn't see what she got. She quickly made the table but once Zoe looked at the table she knew something was missing, but what. Huh she didn't have a name what could she call it?

Table train yeah Table train. She hid it behind her door and went to bed. As soon as she woke up she brought the table to the kitchen. Once her mum came out of her room she shouted happy Mothers Day! Her mother went to give Zoe a tight hug and asked Zoe what is this? Its a table set neatly with plates and if you press the button the plates will move in a circular motion said Zoe. Aww honey this is the Best Mothers Day Gift Ever!
