

Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

READ
GROW
Inspire

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

Giraffes About

Boom! A car crashed into a pole. The police soon came to see who was in the car. There stood a family of giraffes.

One of them was small and sobbing. The others tried to stop the baby giraffe from crying. The police stood shocked and then fainted.

The giraffes walked home. Once they got home they lit the fire and ate some cookies. Baby Giraffe soon went to sleep.

Suddenly, the mum and dad giraffe realised that they had been robbed by a thief. Their picture of the Mona Lisa was gone.

They called the police and the police laughed. The giraffe rushed to the giraffes then rushed to the police station and asked the same question.

The police just said "no." Then the giraffes saw the same Mona Lisa behind the police's desk.

The police ran away thinking the other police may have heard. The giraffes went back home with the Mona Lisa and celebrated with more cookies.