

Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

READ
GROW
Inspire

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

One hot sunny day, ^{there} was a once in a life time experience. Our beloved Queen Elizabeth sadly died but her corgis wouldn't let that slide, but how? "I know just what to do" said one of them. I found a key, "So what?" "Well you see, we can dig a hole to France." "Okay." So they tried and tried but it was useless. Just about when they were going to give up, a friendly fox said "need help?" yes they begged. "To France it is." "How did you hear us?" "I've got super hearing, and you know what? No one can dig as fast as a fox." The next week later they arrived. "I've still got the key," ^{stole} corgi. ^{look} through the window at the news ^{on T.V.} "It's about a key gone missing from the gallery that has the Mona Lisa." said the fox. Lets go! ^{and} That's how the mona lisa was really stolen.