

The shops secret

Once there was a ninja who had three black cats as black as the moonlight. They were no ordinary cats but magical cats. One of the cats had X-ray vision, the second cat had ESP. She could levitate objects with her mind and the third cat could transform into any type of cat. They made an excellent team they all enjoyed discovering secrets.

You see, right in the middle of Australia was a shop. It wasn't a normal shop, it sold every food in the universe and it was so good all the Kings and queens ate there but it was so expensive, only the richest of the rich could afford a small meal. The ninja knew there had to be a secret.

The secret was a magic plate because all the food was magically made by this Peculiar plate. All you had to do was put your hand on the plate and say what food you wanted, then remove your hand, and voila. Food was yours and better than ever. Back to the story. The ninjas were whizzing through the air in a jet. Finally they arrived at the town. They all hopped out and hanglided to the roof of the shop. It's night time and no one was in the kitchen. They looked in every pot, pan, drawer. There was a glowing plate on the table.

The ninja was tired and rested his hand on the plate and wished for an apple. When he removed his hand he was gobsmacked to see an apple on the plate which he put in his pocket.

Suddenly he could hear footsteps so he and two of his cats escaped out the window while the third cat lay on the plate to hide it. He coughed up an old blanket and a small pillow and set up a bed on top of the plate and fell asleep. The guards were tricked and they all walked away. The cat woke up, picked up the plate and followed the ninja into the jet.

Later they arrived at a meeting with the king and queen at court with the plate, ninja and all the cats. They all discussed the plate and eventually the shop keeper was found guilty and was sent to jail. As a gift from the king he let the ninja use the shop as headquarters.
