Far away from here theres an ice rink that is important to a teenager who loves to ice skate who's named Isabella. But the ice rink isn't just any ice rink it's a super deeper super deeper super deeper super extraordinary place that has an all you can eat buffet, a private arcade, a snack bar, a mini park, a library, a house for who owns the place and last but not least a desert restaurant. Every night Isabella ice skates at the special ice rink because her parents own the place and her house is right outside but Isabella doesn't just love that ice rink because of everything it has she loves it because her grandma used to ice skate on the same ice when she was younger but she sadly passed away when Isabella was ten so the ice rink reminds her of her grandma. And thats why Isabella loves that ice rink so much.
