Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

My best idea ever, hmmmm. I was sitting on my fluffy new bed when it struck me!

"AHA!" I cried jumping off new my bed. Hold on, let me explain whats happening, bassically. later that night I was eating as usual, with my parents when there was a black out. now let me tell you this was at dinner time. so it was pitch black. My parents told me to go to my room and get some sleep, but no way I was going to go to sleep when there was a mission to be solved, so I just sat on my bed pondering, and now where here. So let me tell you what my good idea is, so what I'm gotta do is, unlock the window and go to the front of my house where theres a weird box type of thing where you plug and unplug wires. I know what you guys are thinking.

"Well she can't do it, she's only nine". Well I was determined to fix it. so I did part one of my mission. This part went pretty smoothly, except for the fact that my neighbour across the road was watering her plants, but she left now. So step 2, I used a bucket and stood on it and did some fiddiling, and after a whole hour, it was done! —

"What are you doing! you should be in bed!" My mum yelled. Luckilly I fixed the black out, so she wasn't angry that much, so yeah, see you! ☺

P.S: srry, but this is not real, only half of it was true.
