Write a short story about your best idea ever.

A Nap to Success!

Tilly was sitting home one day, on a banana bench, under an oak tree, day dreaming about her best idea ever. The sun was shining right in Tilly's face. So relaxed but tired from her exhausting day walk in the bushes yesterday. It really took a toll on her feet and legs. Therefore to rest today was Tilly's dream come true.

Not too far from home is a wonderland of fun, water sports, slides, jumping castles and many more activities.

Half an hour had passed and deep in sleep was Tilly.

Until, BANG!!! SPLASH!!! KAVOOSH!!! Suddenly in absolute shock, Tilly wakes up to so much noise.

Children screaming, shouting, playing and laughing. Tilly starts walking towards these sounds. Seconds later,

Tilly finds herself in a maze of fun. She looks around, see's numerous water slides. Water splashing everywhere! Even water balloons are being tossed in the air!

Tilly is pushed towards a slide, a very long slide, all gold in colour. She is needing to travel down. The force pushes Tilly closer towards the slide and before she knows it, she is down. She lands on thick beautiful lush green grass. standing in a distance she sees a pair of glowing Uggs. She runs towards them. Slips them on her feet. A button is on the Uggs. Tilly presses the button and up in the air she goes... KAVOOOM!!!

These are Air Uggs! Magical, flying uggs. She is transported to a land full of colour and magic. There seemed to be pixie dust everywhere. As she starts seeing the magic land from above she spots an electric green creature.

Tilly gets closer and screams with excitement, a flying pet appears next to her. Upon closer inspection it is a green flying dragon.

Tilly is now complete. She has her flying air uggs and dream pet dragon. Tilly named her dragon - Cheeto.

Tilly awakens with a splash of water that her brother sprays on her face. She is about to jump off the banana chair when she sees next to the chair her air uggs.

Tilly's best kept secret throughout her teenage years. She continues to research over and over and at the age of 21, Tilly becomes Australia's youngest millionaire. The air uggs have taken off. She is on billboards, tv, internet and even TikTok. Her commercials focus on, no more sore feet or legs while bush walking. It is time to fly up high!

The End.
