

My best idea is a dispensable cat candy machine that produces different kinds of candy. Even some that haven't been invented yet! It's not just normal candy that it produces but it also produces magical candy that can give you magical powers such as flying abilities, fast running and so much more! Its candy is also multicolored which means the more colorful it is the more powerful it is. The purpose of this candy is for you to enjoy as well as giving you special abilities to make you do whatever you want!
