Write a short story about your best idea ever.

My best idea started last year. Me and my friends were bored and didn't know what to play so I said lets make a game as a joke but suprisenly they agreed so I just followed with it. We made it sort of a role play and called the game Gem Stone Agents. Its about four sisters who are actually undercover spies and they have magic powers and pets which can be activated when tapping their gems. The gems are Sapphire Snake, Diamond dog, Rose quartz Reighndeen, pearl panda, crystal cat, rubyrabbit, marbel monkey and many more. We have so much fun pretending to go on missions, fight villans, take care of dragons and complete obstcal coarses! Me and my friends play this game almost every day and didn't expect a joke to turn into a lifetime worth of memories!
