

Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

READ
GROW
Inspired

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

As we approached the mattress store, my mind began to wander aimlessly, for I was not expecting anything extraordinary to happen. However, the instant I lay eyes on the store, I was calling, daring me to turn away. I stumbled upon the bed section, but not an ordinary one, oh no. The biggest mattress in the store, touched with bedsheet, pillows, and a working lamp layout. Without hesitation, a sturdy run was performed by me before flying overhead and toppling into the display.