Write a short story about your best idea ever.

I love taking photo's, but let me tell you how it began. It all started on my holiday to Mornington peninsula. We went to see my godfather Stephen. On the second day, he brought out a camera and said he was a Photographer. I immediately adored it and took a few photo's of the beach. This became my hobby and my dad will buy me a camera for my birthday. I ~~hope~~ hope that one day I will become a photographer!
