

Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

READ
GROW
Inspire

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

Today I wake up on the wrong side of the bed, stepped in a water puddle with soggy socks on, but worst of all I was bored. Staring at the wall, but then I had the greatest idea ever, crunchy grapes, you probably thinking, "What in the world?" well, you'll see. Imagine fresh red grapes of the vine and cigs- oh skip to the point. Well I thought, what would make them crunchy? Ice, no, chocolate? No, wait, that's it, melted sugar! I ran to Woolies down the street to get the goods. I arrived at the kitchen and put the red grapes into the skewers, I got the pot and started to melt the sugary sweet sensation, delicious, sugary sweet fumes everywhere, I carefully dipped the fruit into the pot and let it set, and I quickly put them into the freezer to harden - with parents obviously. The following night I was excited, because they were ready, I shared them down the table with vanilla gelato and I bit in, flavours exploding in my mouth, The taste, the texture, the crunch, it was like heaven in one dessert. That it is one of my "greatest ideas ever" crunchy chocolate grapes.