

Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

READ
GROW
Inspire

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

I sat behind the zoo's glass panel, staring straight into the fuzzy chimps eyes. The ropes tied around the enclosure looked so fun. Chimpanzees grabbed the ropes and flew down into the lake. Then the idea hit me. I knew what I wanted to do, jump in. I was a 9 year old boy, how could I resist?

I quickly climbed over and jumped onto the grass. Everyone around the enclosure stopped and starred. Suddenly chimps barged onto my chest as I collapsed onto the floor. Workers pushed the doors open and grabbed me.

Wo

As they ran to the medical room, I only just realised that this wasn't my best idea...