Write a short story about your best idea ever.

One day while away
in a small Aussie town on a scorching Summers' day
I had an idea
It would change the future!
Even more than
Canned Kombucha,
A motion machine
that goes on forever!
And ever and ever and ever and ever
It would power the country!
It would make me money!
But it would also be really really funny
I could use it to prank my unsuspecting brother
But as reasons go, there is yet another.
~~Theme parks look like my machine~~
Theme parks have these crazy rides that look my machine.
So one that went forever?
Now that really would be king
