

Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

READ
GROW
Inspire

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

Then and Now

THEN

Every single day, practising for long, long hours, Beethoven, Mozart, Tchaikovsky. Notes filled in head. Stuck in this position forever.

NOW

Being able to enjoy playing piano as a hobby instead of hard labour. Fur Elise, Alla Turca, Summer. Doing this for fun and growing to love it.

THEN

About to give up for good and feeling as if all practise for nothing. Wasting time on this thing that just overtook me. "Wrong choice. Chllee!"

"Give up now or you will regret it!"

Brain filled with negative thoughts - on the border of giving up.

NOW

Practising pieces for examination ~~at~~ sixth grade piano - and loving it so much. Feeling like a boss, the Queen in my own imaginary world. The proudest I could ever be.

THEN

Decides not to let negative side overtake myself and continues to push on. Continue to improve. Persisting till I make it.

NOW

Piano is my favourite thing to do. Whenever I am stressed, I play myself a tune. Music is something special. It's hard to explain, but somehow it's like it evaporates and sends out happiness and joy. Music fills your ~~the~~ heart with so much joy and ~~take~~ instantly removes any negativity.

Without music, I don't know how I would live in so much happiness and peace.