

Writing competition

With a sprinkle of inspiration, little ideas can grow into big ideas.

READ
GROW
Inspire

Write a short story about your best idea ever.

Fiction story Based in Korea 1984 Title: Fallen ones

"It's November 15th 1984, the day before my Birthday. I'm writing this letter for one reason, THEY FOUND US. I don't know how much time I have but the minute you get this, go back to the first place we met and say the secret words!"

So she put the letter in the post, the Guardian received the letter the next day and went to the first place they met and said the secret words, the tree opened up and gave the Guardian a white glowing orb, "What is this a joke" the Guardian tossed the orb at the floor and looked back at the tree and started murmuring to herself, then the orb opened a portal the Guardian noticed and got close to the portal and looked in the portal, she saw chaos and destruction, she stepped in then the portal closed, it seemed she was stuck there forever, she saw the girl and ran over, she told the girl what she did, the girl was proud,

"This is a corrupt version of Earth, stay here with me, so the guardian did. That's the end of the story, oh and the secret word, 나무에 앉아."

나무에 앉아 (means "sitting in a tree" in Korean)