Penguin mountain

Write a short story about a wonderful and magical place.

A magical place on top of the mountains through the clouds and in the snow an icy, cold, and chilly as you walk through. You see a few penguins on the way you go through the cave you see a big city but no ordinary city an igloo city with penguins. A penguin comes and greets you and gives a big city tour. It looks so unreal, lights, candy canes and snow you try to look for some shelter but on the way you see a mysterious cave with glowing crystals everywhere, penguins mining, you walk out and there's the magical thing ever it's a gigantic igloo with not even a thing you could imagine if it had so many beautiful lights. You see a plane. A penguin takes you to the plane the penguin was called Tim. He takes the plane for a flight he loses control he grabs the parachute and jumps. You go to a factory there's a penguin that has super stretch ability he can stretch anywhere but you had to go home so a penguin Tim took you in a hot air balloon and everyone got home safely. But now you get to see the city from an angle it's so beautiful but you have to go home now....
