

Reading is magic and can transport you to amazing and curious places.

Write a short story about a wonderful and magical place.

once there was a amazing forest. All of the animals never made any trouble. One day it was super sunny. And the birds were singing amazing songs. Then a little girl walked in the forest. She thought it was a scary forest. then she found a bird that talked. why are you here said the bird. the girl said I want to stay at this forest. The bird said sure but you must promise not to hurt or steal the animals. The girl said yes i promise. The girl said bye and walked off. she made a shelter. she cooked food. she ate the food. then the sunset came. the girl watched the amazing sunset. then went in her bed. And said good night.
