Reading is magic and can transport you to amazing and curious places.

Write a short story about a wonderful and magical place.

CRASH! BANG! AAAAH! I yelled ~~when~~ as I woke up. There was a loud noise, ~~that~~ That was what woke me up. The noises were coming from outside.
I walked through the hallway then outside. THERE WAS A BIG SWIRLING CIRCLE! I figured out that it was a portal.
I didn't know where it led so I threw a rock into the portal, it disappeared! I was very scared to go into the portal I was shaking. Slowly I managed to gather up the courage to step into it. It was a sudden rush of colour. It was amazing! and then it all stopped. There were so many animals and plants that I had never seen before.

I had never seen anything like it! But then I realised then that I ~~realised~~ got a book from an man on the street he said it was magic I didn't believe him but I bought the book anyway, and then when I muttered the magic words and there was a small poof! but nothing happened. ~~and~~ so I walked around but then the portal closed.
I ~~was~~ panicked! But then I woke up. It was a sunny morning and I could hear birds tweeting outside. Phew I said to myself "it was just a dream" But there it lay on the foot of my bed magic portals and how to open them
