The Leprecons Gold

The rainbow glistened in the sunshine and there wasn't a cloud in sight. I flung my door open and listened to the other leprecons admiring their lush green outfits. Celina my seahorse was demanding all sorts of things. "EEOO!" Suddenly my name was called by the mayor. I was in trouble already. "NA-O-MII!" Just like that my brain was pumping. I WAS ON GOLD GUARDING DUTY! BANG! TINK! BOOM! I tripped on Celina's tail, hit my head on a bucket and knocked over a barrel of cheap chicken nuggets! "Well at least it was cheap," I murmured. Out of nowhere a large levitating ship stopped on top of the gold! It was the evil pirate Sophie! "Oh NO! It is Sophie!" cried the leprecons quickly. Sophie the pirate swooped in and snatched the pot of gold nuggets. Without thinking I very NOT gracefully flung myself onto my pink, purple and silver seahorse. We galloped for hours leaving a trail of dirt behind. The ship was a speck in the beautiful purple, golden orange and royal yellow sky. Out of nowhere Celina tripped and we fell into a river of liquid gold. Us leprecons aren't good swimmers so I struggled to get out. In a spur of a moment I was lifted up and thrown in a pile of gold... IT WAS SOPHIE! "This new nugget is a big one!" squealed Sophie. "Actually," I mentioned covered in liquid gold. "I am not gold. I am here to take back what is ours," I yelled in utter anger. Sophie's face was like she had seen her grandma turn into a ninja, slap her in the face with a tortilla and then vomit a rainbow! I scooped up the gold and rode on a rainbow (leaving a trail of liquid gold) all the way home! "Wait! I was going to eat those!" cried Sophie in despair. THE END!
