

Writing competition

Reading is magic and can transport you to amazing and curious places.

Write a short story about a wonderful and magical place.

There are many a story, some filled with boldness and bravery, while others cower. A thing you must note is that no matter the cover, a book will transform you. Dragons raiding castles, children playing with their toys, leaves falling with a mass delicacy. Swords clashing, horses breath wading in the air, all combined into one book, inspired by the mind. With such a powerful tool, many can woe the reader, or make them cry tears. Your imagination spreads, filling your heart. A book can make you forget all bad, and help you progress in life. This is why reading a book is so important. So don't lay back and wonder what you are, wonder what you can be.
